EMPLOYEES, GUESTS MAKE ANNUAL GALA A SUCCESS

Waterbury Hospital celebrated its eighth Annual Gala, "A Tribute to Our Stars", at the Connecticut Grand Hotel on November 10.

Over 600 guests shared fine food and drink and dancing throughout the night to the music of the Harold Zinno Orchestra and the more contemporary offerings of PowerStation.

John Tobin, DMan, MPH, President and Chief Executive Officer of Waterbury Hospital, and John Elser, MD, Gala Co-Chair, both addressed the attendees with their words of thanks. A highlight of the evening was Dr. Tobin's presentation of the Humanitarian of the Year Award to long-time Hospital volunteer Howard Parsons.

DRA DONATES EQUIPMENT TO HELP HOSPITAL BETTER DETECT BREAST CANCER

Diagnostic Radiology Associates (DRA) of Waterbury recently donated a valued piece of equipment to Waterbury Hospital. Having used CAD (computer aided diagnosis) for mammography for five years, the group felt strongly about its diagnostic benefits. Considered standard of care, it offers a more complete evaluation than methods previously available. Knowing that their medical group and Waterbury Hospital share the common goal of delivering the highest quality of care to their patients, DRA made its gift to the Hospital. Speaking for their partners, Senior Partner Gerry Berg, MD, and Managing Partner Marco Verga, MD, said "we are certain that its continued use in the Hospital radiology department will be a valuable tool in the fight against breast cancer."

Special entertainment was provided by three "good sports" on the Hospital's staff. Selected by lottery from a pool of interested employees, Janice Davis, Sandy Lombardi, and Tony Rubbo were "Stars" as they performed, with six-hundred pairs of eyes upon them, a number of dance routines with professional dancers with whom they had trained for weeks.

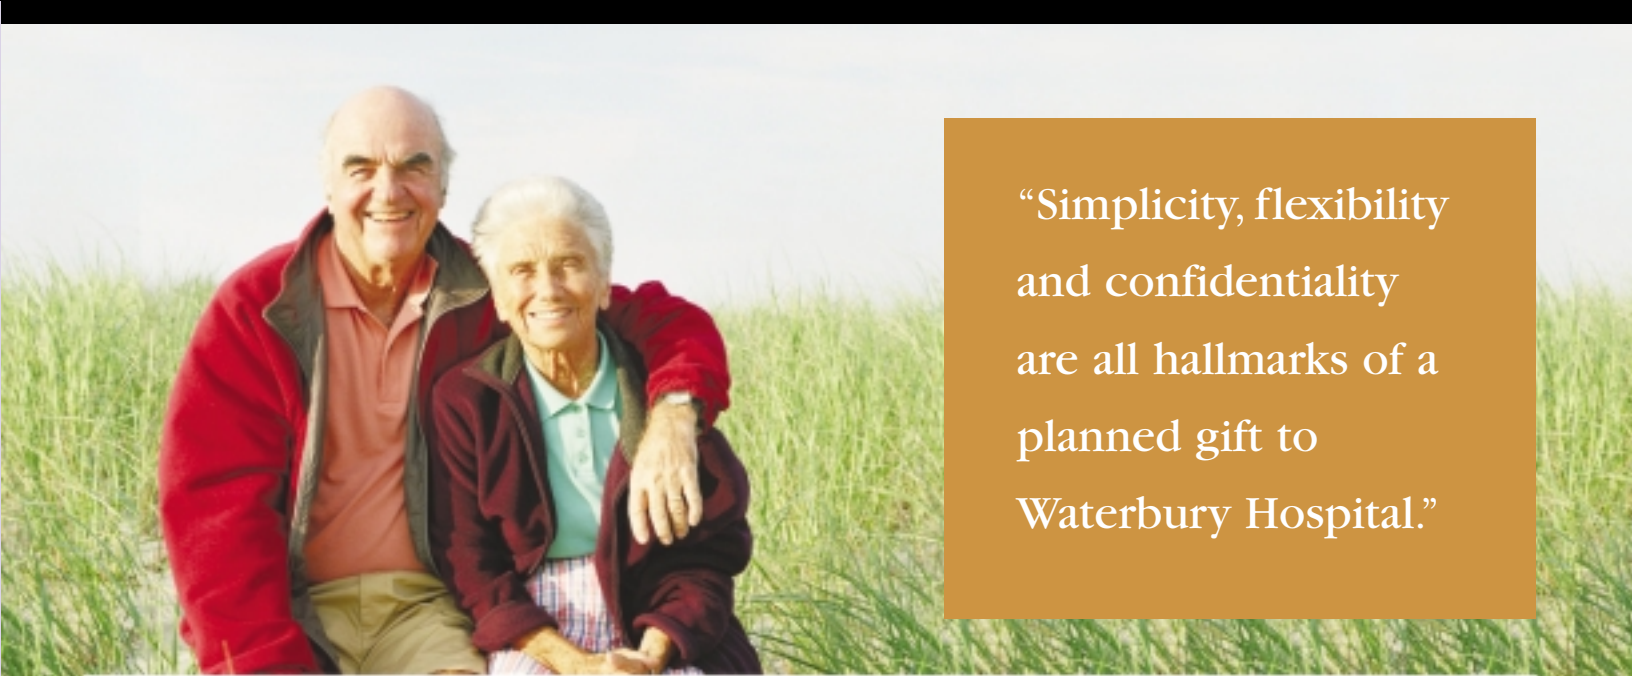

Throughout the evening, the revelers enjoyed bidding on one-hundred Silent Auction items and a $5,000 diamond bracelet, and then they took delight in the excitement of an energetic and animated Live Auction.

The beneficiary of the evening was the Hospital's Emergency Department, which will use the funds to enhance its services to both patients and their families. Christopher J. Michos, MD, Interim Director of the Emergency Department, delivered a heartfelt and humorous presentation on life in the ED and his vision for its future.

"A Tribute to Our Stars" raised almost $80,000 for the Emergency Department through its auctions, the generosity of its attendees and numerous medical and corporate sponsors.

Third from the right, Daniel Sanchez, President of Onyx II Jewelers, Exclusive Diamond Sponsor, with family and friends.

“Simplicity, flexibility and confidentiality are all hallmarks of a planned gift to Waterbury Hospital.”

YOUR PLANNED GIFT:

PROVIDING MANY SOLUTIONS AND GREATER JOYS

Estate planning is among the more personal activities we need, at some time in our lives, to undertake. Its importance is clear; though it frequently takes a back seat to so much else that consumes our time. We do need, at some point, to deal with issues which might even make us uncomfortable, like confronting reminders of our mortality.

How important is it to have a plan that provides for the distribution of our property? Well, if we don't make these decisions, someone else will eventually need to make them for us, and possibly not in the manner we would have chosen. By having a will or estate plan, we alone determine who will receive or benefit from the property we own and in what proportions it will be distributed. But without a plan, these decisions will fall to someone whom we do not know, someone unaware of the values, causes and organizations which we hold dear.

There are many practical advantages to including charitable gifts in your planning, such as eliminating or reducing taxes, providing for family security or receiving a guaranteed lifetime annual income. Gift planning also gives one countless choices: how to give, what to give, to whom to give, in what amount or proportion, etc. The possibilities are extensive. In addition to the practical reasons, there are also untold joys to be discovered in planning gifts. Completing arrangements for a planned gift can give an unimaginable lift to our spirits. We rest with the assurance that our support will continue for something we love and respect, and that we have acted responsibly as stewards of what has been entrusted to us. Gift planning also enables us to arrange for a gift which we probably could not make today but can certainly plan for today. We discover, too, that so many of our initial concerns were unfounded: simplicity, flexibility and confidentiality (to the extent we wish) are all hallmarks of a planned gift to Waterbury Hospital.

Several years ago, Waterbury Hospital instituted its “Society for Tomorrow,” which is composed of people who have included the Hospital in their estate plans. We encourage all who read this message to join them by including Waterbury Hospital and its future in their estate planning. Please keep in mind that the size of one's estate has no bearing on whether we should plan. Planning is simply wise and prudent for everyone, for practical reasons, and for reasons of the heart.

When making your plans, always consult with your own trusted advisor or attorney.

Please feel free to call the Fund Development Office at 203-573-6029 with any questions you may have. All inquiries are confidential and without obligation.

2007 CHARITY GOLF CLASSIC
RAISES $54,000
FOR EMERGENCY DEPARTMENT
RENOVATIONS

On a beautiful, bright sunny July 2nd, over 150 golfers participated in Waterbury Hospital's 14th annual Charity Golf Classic held at the picturesque Country Club of Waterbury. The event, which was rescheduled from June 4th due to inclement weather, raised nearly $20,000 more than last year for a net profit of $54,000.

Mrs. Kilmartin is pictured with Waterbury Hospital President and CEO, John Tobin.

The Kilmartin Waiting Room

Readers of "Making a Difference" have met Mrs. Jennie Kilmartin before. A 1944 graduate of Waterbury Hospital's School of Nursing, Mrs. Kilmartin made a gift to the Hospital in early 2007, which was eventually used to refurbish a waiting room in the Critical Care Unit. On September 17, the Kilmartin Waiting Room was officially opened. Mrs. Kilmartin attended the opening to see the improvements now in place and meet several members of the Unit's nursing staff who work so closely with the family members of their patients. Mrs. Kilmartin's nursing career brought her close to the families of many patients, families who needed time and space apart as they dealt with their loved one's illness or trauma. She is happy to have been able to provide a comfortable and private space for those families at Waterbury Hospital.

PENNIES

• for Patients •

Guided by a group of students in the Wallace Middle School Student Council, a team of about 150 sixth grade students collected almost $100 to benefit Waterbury Hospital patients. The fundraiser, appropriately named "Pennies for Patients" by the students, was the first of its kind and it is their hope to make it an annual event.

"What a wonderful gift!" said Thomas Missett, the Hospital's Chief Development Officer. "And what an example these young folks have set for us all. They have shown us that little things, like pennies, make a big difference when we all work together. They have obviously learned at an early age how important it is to be connected to your community."

Waterbury Hospital says "Thanks, kids! We look forward to your generosity again next year."

LOCAL ARTIST BRIGHTENS UP EMERGENCY DEPT.

Waterbury Hospital was the recent recipient of a painting by local artist Mary Patterson of Southbury, given for use in the Emergency Department. The Reverend Mary Patterson is a graduate of Oxford who, in addition to painting for fun and therapy, has served in several ministerial positions in western Connecticut. She is also a frequently published freelance writer, and assists her husband, Paul, at their business, Blue Jay Orchards, in Bethel. Six orchard cookbooks are among her writings.
